AP [®] WORLD HISTORY 2009 SCORING GUIDELINES
	Question 2—Continuity/Change over Time
BA	SIC CORE (competence)	0–7 Points
1.	Has acceptable thesis.	1 Point
	Addresses the global issues and the time period(s) specified.
•	The thesis correctly specifies BOTH continuity and change in patterns of interactions along the Silk Roads from 200 B.C.E. to 1450 C.E.
•	Students need not address "the patterns" but must address interactions. o Examples: religions, diseases, economic systems, technology, animals, products.
•	The thesis must be explicitly stated in the introduction or the conclusion of the essay.
	The thesis may appear as one sentence or as multiple sentences.
	A thesis that is split among multiple paragraphs or merely restates the prompt is unacceptable. For example, "There were many continuities and changes" is not acceptable.
•	The thesis CANNOT count for any other point.
2.	Addresses all parts of the question, though not necessarily evenly or thoroughly.	2 Points
	For 2 points:
•	Essay addresses BOTH continuity AND change in patterns of interactions along the Silk Roads with historically relevant specificity.
	For 1 point:
•	Addresses EITHER continuity OR change in patterns of interactions along the Silk Roads with historically relevant specificity.
•	"Addressing" CANNOT count for any other point.
3.	Substantiates thesis with appropriate historical evidence.	2 Points
	For 2 points:
•	Provides at least five pieces of accurate evidence of continuity AND change in patterns of interactions along the Silk Roads. • Each piece of evidence must be a supporting example of continuity OR change
	 Each piece of evidence must be a supporting example of continuity OR change in patterns of interactions along the Silk Roads.
	 Examples: religions, disease, economic systems, technology, animals, products.
	For 1 point:
•	Partially substantiates thesis with appropriate historical evidence.
•	Provides at least four pieces of accurate evidence of continuity AND/OR change
	in patterns of interactions along the Silk Roads. • Each piece of evidence must be a supporting example of continuity OR change in patterns of interactions along the Silk Roads.
1	Uses relevant world historical context effectively to explain	1 Point
-2.	continuity and change over time.	I FOIIIt
•	The essay relates or describes an extraregional connection or a global process to explain a continuity OR change in patterns of interactions along the Silk Roads.
	 Example: "Over a period of time, Silk Roads were responsible for bringing different relevant into contents," in NOT a powerball, he reveal of the local of an artificiant cultures into contact" is NOT acceptable because of the lack of specificity. Using "relevant world historical context" CANNOT count for the analysis point (#5).
•	using relevant wond instorical context. CAMMOT count for the analysis point (#5).

Write in the box the number of the question you a swering B 10f2 on this page as it is designated in the exam. 2A -extremely theSilk Read TAM empiresot E. ŝ 0.00 MAS anc ontinuous ρ O Flow rρ aicios 154 accasional Plag P into. thesi (h R/ F OMP NGO TA 20 Ø Sile U.S.C. P 201 (BDP(Han m M ≤ 0 UXUN regions Sesp Di an GO¥ hr Komana rinc and es \sim strn Kome 665 Rant P em 2 Lice CI Dic e 办 consi Sma 1Cin NWS pra when GI revivec OMP Can NPSP 1 the m an n Past mur 100 (-p ame S G Trade

2.06 Write in the box the number of the question you are answering on this page as it is designated in the exam. B 2A wills. the cultural interactions Fich tha m instance. tor DIGCE DPC ant Tron 10 0 P ante e aque, 9 DIRO \mathcal{M} YO Ã, Roads 3 4 20 ra ۲ l na Pan at Ø A enti \cap F hip Ц PSP were many changes d' ROMP P Maineo ance nin important ററ an WER 1a 26 s bmono and the ۱h V and m otto Declinning 10 non DI

28 10f2 Write in the box the number of the question you are answering on this page as it is designated in the exam. The silk Roads were a set of trading routes that spanned across most of Aria linking Baster Earopato areas from Eastern Europe all the way to china. Patterns of interaction both changed and remained the same during 200-BCE to 1430 CE due to He rise and fall of different societies and cultures, Muslim merchants constantly dominated the silk poach trade touter throughout its existence. Muslim tradute work prevalent in He Indian Diesn trade and also controlled Hnas major areas through the Middle East-and Persia. through Huclim differences that into products from thing made Heir may to Rome and vice versa. Another major to item Hat the silk kind continually spread has religion. Buddhism has introduced to China by nay of the silk Road and exm religions such as Christianity were transmitted from Europe to Asia.

Honever, a major source of cultural diffusion - invessions and war- has not really apparent on the silk Road in any large scale until the the Rise of the to Hongols. While having to taske for cultural development themselves, the Hongols usually allowed existing cultures to remain. Thus, when the Mongols for conquered their may throughout Eurasig, eventually establishing an enormous empire, the result has a linking of collections that may not have been so closely involved before. The Hongols caused a boom of cultural and trading interactions along the silk Poa di with

Write in the box the number of the question you are answering 2 on this page as it is designated in the exam. 28 2012 the establishment of their huge Empire, Aftactor for the Hongy is for HTS2 GE, former action of back began back which lasted until its fall in 1450.CE. The Silk Road was the major link between East and hest in He time period betreen 200 BCE to 1450 CE. Muslim nerchants dominated Silk Road trade consistently, but the Mongol Empire became a tying force as it brought different althour together under He same Ompire. enpire. © 2009 The College Board. All rights reserved. Visit the College Board on the Web: www.collegeboard.com.

Write in the box the number of the question you an wering 2 2C 10f2 on this page as it is designated in the exam. Over centuries the Silk Road aren from alocal to a massive extensive spannina commerce thousands of miles a nations corporation and commodities Road grew out of Virtually he nothing, In 200 BLE, there were 3 zones: Europeans traded in the. Mediterannean. thethe Arabstraded in Arabía. and the with themselves There Asians traded Was no contact with the World, Then as is human na began What law arguno wonder 50 their began The intermediate stage in the Silk Road lall when it only had the stops When the first Med terannean hina. Europeans ched china thel Q bus ling prosperous metropo Could match. even surpass, and fbat trode had 100 ter, 5 that Sik road out its name. Chinese adelicate and elegant material they called silk, that Europeans fell a650/1 itelli head-over-

2 2:C:20f2 Write in the box the number of the question you are answering on this page as it is designated in the exam. heels for, It would soon become the dominant dress of European aristocracy. The final stage of the Silk Road , "ust before the middle ages. developed If encompassed all of the known world at the time. Of course the route to (hina remained intact, but now came the East Coast of Africa, Anabia, the Steppes of Russia, and even This was an incredibly complex network: now every culture could enjoy the goods of all the others, It wois in this time that Marco Polo made his famous trek China.

The very end of the Silk Road network came at about 1450 when the Ottoman turks blacked all overland routes, this lead to the increased use of sea-going merchant fleets and sparked the Age of Exploration in Europe. The Silk Road allowed the sharing of wealth, of knowledge, and of culture. It led to the economic prosperity for Europe and opened the door to the next age.

AP[®] WORLD HISTORY 2009 SCORING COMMENTARY

Question 2-Continuity/Change over Time

Overview

Students were asked to analyze the continuities and changes in patterns of interactions along the Silk Roads from 200 B.C.E. to 1450 C.E. They had five tasks: 1) to write an acceptable thesis that correctly specified both continuity and change; 2) to address both continuity and change, although not evenly or thoroughly; 3) to substantiate their thesis with appropriate historical evidence; 4) to use world historical context to effectively explain continuity and change over time; and 5) to analyze the process of continuity and change over time. Although students were not required to address "the patterns," they did have to address interactions.

Sample: 2A Score: 8

The thesis is in the first paragraph and addresses both continuity and change with specificity (1 point). A pattern of change (the rise and fall of empires) is explained on the first page in the third paragraph, and a pattern of continuity in trade is discussed on the first page in the fourth paragraph, ("The trade patterns were much the same as in previous years") (2 points). The student provides abundant and historically accurate evidence for both continuity and change throughout the essay (2 points). The discussion of the Roman Empire and the Han dynasty dominating their regions, on the first page in the second paragraph, incorporates relevant world historical context (1 point). The student analyzes the process of change in a discussion of the effects of the adoption of paper money in the first paragraph on the second page (1 point). The student earned 1 expanded core point for a solid understanding of historical chronology, patterns, and cause and effect; sophisticated analysis; effective use of historically relevant examples; and a sound understanding of world historical context.

Sample: 2B Score: 4

The essay's attempted thesis, located in the first paragraph, does not address continuity and change with any historical specificity. A pattern of change is addressed in the third paragraph ("However, a major source of cultural diffusion—invasions and war—was not really apparent on the Silk Road in any large scale until the rise of the Mongols") and a pattern of continuity in the second paragraph ("Another major item that the Silk Road continually spread was religion") (2 points). There are four accurate pieces of evidence for change, but there is no accurate evidence for continuity (1 point). The essay includes a discussion of world historical context in explaining a change in the third paragraph, second and third sentences (1 point). The essay does not analyze the process of change or continuity over time using specific information that is different from the discussion of world historical context.

Sample: 2C Score: 1

There is no thesis in the introduction or in the conclusion. The essay addresses change in the first paragraph (1 point) but does not address continuity. The student does not include enough accurate evidence of change or continuity to earn a point. Additionally, there is no world historical context or analysis of the process of change or continuity.